

Italian textile machinery firms to showcase innovation at Techtextil North America 2025 in US

A strong delegation of Italian textile machinery manufacturers is set to participate in Techtextil North America 2025, taking place from May 6 - 8 in Atlanta, Georgia. Organized by ACIMIT (Association of Italian Textile Machinery Manufacturers) in collaboration with the Italian Trade Agency, the Italian Pavilion will feature 21 companies highlighting their latest technological advancements.

Exhibiting firms include notable names such as 4M Plants, Bianco, Bonino, Color Service, Fadis, Flainox, Ima, Marzoli, Monti Antonio, Monti-Mac, Omr, Ramatex, Ramina, Reggiani Macchine, Siltex, Simet, Stalam, Tecnorama, Unitech, Zanfri, and Zappa. These companies will present cutting-edge solutions aimed at boosting efficiency, automation, and sustainability in textile production.

The US textile industry, generating over $64 billion in annual sales and employing more than 500,000 people, remains a major force in American manufacturing. It is also a key global investor in advanced technologies, with textile machinery imports reaching around $1 billion in 2024 alone.

For Italian machinery exporters, the US ranks as the fourth-largest market after China, Turkey, and India. In 2024, Italian exports to the US totaled 112 million euro, maintaining stability year-on-year.

“The 2025 edition of Techtextil North America comes amid global economic challenges, but the growing number of Italian exhibitors signals renewed confidence in US textile industry prospects,” said ACIMIT President Marco Salvade, underscoring the strategic importance of the American market for Italian innovation.
