A number of Italian companies will participate in Turkmentextile Expo 2026, an international exhibition scheduled to take place in Ashgabat from June 4-6. The Italian national pavilion will be organized by the Italian Trade Agency (ICE) in cooperation with ACIMIT, the association representing Italian textile machinery manufacturers, ACIMIT said Thursday.

The participation aims to strengthen the presence of Italian technologies in the Turkmen market, which ACIMIT considers strategically important and promising. Italy positions itself as one of the key technology partners for local textile producers, according to the association.

The Italian pavilion will feature Bianco, Color Service, Corino Macchine, Dover Industries Italy, Itepa, M.C.S. Officina Meccanica, Marzoli Machines Textile, Mesdan, Salvadè, Savio Macchine Tessili and Stalam.

Turkmentextile Expo 2026 is expected to serve as an international platform bringing together machinery manufacturers, innovative companies and designers. The event will focus on sustainable practices, advanced technologies and contemporary design solutions in the textile industry.
